DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-5 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The reason for the rejection as set forth in the last office action is maintained and incorporated herein by reference.

In the amendment, applicant provided two pages of explanation with regard to the camera calibration, integration of GPS/INS/DMI and integration of CCD/GPS/INS/DMI and asserted that such are routine within the art. The examiner strongly disagrees with applicant's assertion that such missing disclosure in the original specification is routine in the art. Since such missing disclosure as provided in the amendment is essential for one to understand, make and use the claimed invention, applicant either needs to provide evidence (such as showing of prior art) to support his conclusive statement that such missing disclosure provided in the amendment is routine in the art or to incorporate such detailed explanation provided in the amendment into the original specification without adding any new matters, in order to overcome the above rejection under 112, first paragraph. It is further noted that applicant still silent with regard to the functions performed by the DMI and sensor synchronizer as raised in the last office action. Moreover, applicant's explanation with regard to the integration of CCD/GPS/INS/DMI is somewhat confusing and fails to concisely explain how the 3 dimensional coordinates of a road can be determined by the target position extractor based upon the integrated data from the GPS/INS/DMI integrator and the interior/exterior orientation from the two cameras.

Art Unit: 3661

3. Claims 1-5 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As per claims 1-5, the reason for the rejection as set forth in the last office action is maintained and incorporated herein by reference.

In the amendment, applicant merely changed the words "attitude", "rout" and "storage" to "altitude", "route" and "storager" respectively and failed to address each of the 112 defects as raised in the last office action. Further, the word "storager" as amended is unclear in meaning and does not exist in the dictionary.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3661
